Friends of Seedtime,

It's Easy

To send a photo

For one brief moment they smile for the camera. It looks good. Something good has happened... you hope. Yet, we have all been part of something where our heart was not really affected, but, at the call of the photographer, we mustered a smile and...click.

Worse yet, is when the photo caption boasts of revival. We certainly want revival, but do we know this based on a photo? If not, then what do we know?

We know that they spent 4 days pouring over a book with about 450 Bible verses.

This seminar has proven to me, Brian, that it reaches deep into many of those who attend. I have been to many American bible studies, seeing folks leave much as they came in, unaffected. In Haiti, however, I watch our typical class generate genuine outbursts of excitement. I almost casually refer to these times saying, they "flipped". Things changed for one or more. Not everyone and not every class, but often, surprisingly often.

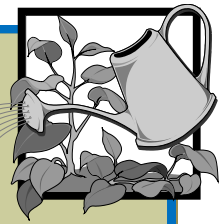

It was always something hard to capture for our Friends of Seedtime. We are still waiting for Frantz to describe for us what he heard and saw from the students. Were there any signs that someone flipped? Is Frantz sensitive to this yet? We're not sure.

For now, Frantz reports that classes went well Sept 7th-10th as scheduled and above we see the best of the photos. The seminar for Sept 14th -17th was postponed and the seminar for Sept 21-24 is still a go.

Thank you for your attention to Seedtime's discipleship work.

Blessings to you and yours!

Remember please,
that imperfect people present God's perfect Word to other imperfect people.

If not for the Holy Spirit, where would we be?

We pray for the faithfulness of everyone involved.

Please join in praying for the next round of classes.

Sept 21st - 24th
