Friends of Seedtime,

Mixed Signals from our recent Bible study.

And we're okay with that, because we're all a bit of a mixed bag, truth be told. We'll describe Seedtime's recent class of 5 students attending our 3 day plunge into the Bible.

The one consistent data point was that none of the 5 had read their entire Bible. That included one student who teaches Sunday school in her church. Plus, that same teacher claimed to attend church only "sometimes".

We Christians, can be pretty inconsistent and this group was no exception. Maybe this tells us that Seedtime is filling a need in the church, encouraging and enabling our brothers and sisters to see relevant, applicable wisdom in the Bible.

Leadership of the host church did not formally enroll in our Bible study. Two of them sat in with the other 5 for a few hours on one day. If they could just put into practice the little they did hear! Frantz knows these leaders well and knows they regularly violate the verses we teach.

One of the 5 students was encouraged to attend by her parents. Afterwards, that student lamented that her parents didn't attend themselves. Seems we made a very good impression on the young lady. And who knows, maybe the daughter will lead her parents to more of God's truth!

One other student saw the content at the beginning and immediately called his wife to invite her to come. She did. So four students quickly became 5.

Of the 10 chapters in our Bible study, topics of Counsel, Honesty and Giving were most popular. Honesty has always ranked high on the favorites list.

We, and Frantz especially, are grateful that a face-to-face Bible study ...finally got started... and finished!

We are grateful that our Seedtime Friends walk with us so we can have this in-person time together with Haitian students.

Thanks for walking with Seedtime

Based on post class comments, it surprised the students that so much in the Bible teaches how to live today.

I loved this class so much.
I will put it into practice and share it with others.

Maybe you'd be willing to pray for them?
