Friends of Seedtime, What a Pleasant Surprise!

Jerry M, a former student of Frantz' came to visit Frantz who was home recuperating from a moped crash that cracked his anklebone and cut his tongue. They hadn't seen each other in a couple of years. Jerry proceeded to share with Frantz how his life had changed since the 3-day bible study that Frantz taught.

Jerry became convicted of not taking care of his family. He was spending it on other ladies and had little to take home. According to Jerry, that all changed thanks to our Bible study and the power of the Holy Spirit.

I've asked Frantz to sit with Jerry and his wife to hear more detail once Frantz is up to the task.

We seldom get reviews from students beyond their initial excitement at the end of class. We look forward to hearing more from this newly restored couple.

Which student from our past classes will be next to share a great testimony?

We never intended to make our Bible studies solely about finances. Even "biblical" finances seems too limiting. Beginning with finances is great, but ending with Lordship in all things is where we head. This time however, we are reminded how getting finances right can move the needle towards Lordship and that makes for a really good day!

Laurie said maybe we got a peek at the Harvest part of Seedtime and Harvest. Mostly we refer to our ministry informally as "Seedtime". This moment gave us a taste of the future harvest... at least for one family.

Thanks for walking with Seedtime!

Comparing Notes:

Haiti turned their clocks forward when we did here in the US.

Haiti, like the US, has elections scheduled for later this year. However, Haiti has registered over 300 political parties looking for voters' attention. Charlie Brown's voice is saying "Good Grief" in my head.

Haiti's gasoline prices went up just like ours did, but where Frantz is at, it went from $6.90 USD per gal in January to 13 USD now. Time to stop comparing! Just be grateful!

Jade

The 2.5 year old daughter of Frantz and Elisiane has been diagnosed with kidney disease. Frantz is working through what doctors are available to figure this out.

Her legs and face were swollen, but meds have provide at least a little relief.

Your prayers are welcomed.
