Friends of Seedtime,

Who's Advice Did You Say It Was?

Banker's Finance Presentation: Frantz was recently invited to attend a church program. A pastor had invited a banker to speak to his church about managing money. As you might guess, the banker did not use biblical reasoning for his advice. Frantz asked the question, "What about the Bible's words about debt and managing money?" Frantz did not belabor the subject. It was not his presentation. He just asked and sat down.

Later the banker came to Frantz to see the Biblical finance teaching book Frantz carries. We call the book "Pawol Bondye Nan Finans" or "PBNF" which translates to "The Word of God in Finance." The banker showed interest in the PBNF class so Frantz was happy. Seedtime likes to present God's Words on a subject, not our opinions. So sad to see a pastor set aside the Bible for "professional" opinions. Maybe we can influence that.

Who walks to the radio station? No one in America. But they do in Haiti! It's how the Haitians receive their Bible reading calendars from Frantz when they've called in to ask or answer questions during Frantz' on-air program.

Frantz keeps a few in the hands of radio station managers. They distribute them when the Haitian listeners come by. It's a difference in cultures that really benefits us as we work to get Bible Reading Calendars to those likely to use them.

You know Frantz didn't make the calendars. We printed them and folded them and shipped them with the help of Seedtime Friends. There are 400 more calendars in the supplies being shipped to Frantz as we write this. That ship is scheduled to arrive in Port-de-Paix about October 5th. Perhaps within a week they clear customs and Frantz is holding them.... something to pray about.

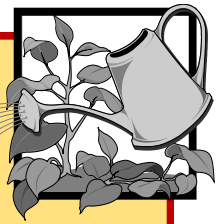

Family Photo: We asked Frantz to send us a photo of him and his family prior to boarding the bus to return home. The path was dangerous and we wanted to have a good photo before they traveled through gang territory just in case.

Now, the photo to the right is the whole family, back home, safe and rested... nothing fancy, just daily serving the Lord in discipleship ministry in Haiti.

Thanks for your prayers and support. The medical costs are about 80% covered.

Thanks for walking with Seedtime!

It's not unusual.

When Frantz gives an introduction to our PBNF class, as he did last Sunday, it's not unusual to hear someone say how fortunate they were to hear about our class.

When we show them that God speaks about so many financial issues and speaks clearly, they are amazed and suddenly in a hurry to learn more.

It's not unusual for us to respond with "When would you like the full class."

And it's not unusual to find Friends of Seedtime helping provide the financial costs of offering these classes.

To that we say Thank You!
